Giving you accurate and cost-efficient
financial communications

Our transactional mailing services offer you a more flexible and cost-effective approach to producing your financial communications, whilst helping you to improve cash flows and increase the overall return on investment through the use of targeted messaging.

Upon secure receipt of your data, our state-of-the-art equipment allows us to print either entire documents or personalised information onto plain or pre-printed stationery. At FCS, we control multiple page inserting by the use of intelligent barcodes, OMR or OCR marks. Our file-based mechanism controls the flow of data from print through to insertion, ensuring 100% integrity and the automated generation of reprints.

Every step of the process is monitored and recorded at FCS, giving you control, accountability and confidence in the service we're providing. What's more, an FCS Laser Mail account manager will remain in close contact to ensure that each job runs smoothly and that you get the best possible return on your investment.

Postal discounts

Our complete postal sortation service and vast experience in postal management ensures that you receive the best possible postal discounts available

All in all, we serve a wide range of clients from examination boards to major finance organisations, and operate from a highly secure, controlled-access environment that's manned seven days a week.

In fact, we pride ourselves on the quality and security of our operations. At all times, we ensure that the standards we set meet the three ISO certificates we've already been awarded:

ISO9001 (Quality Control)

ISO14001 (Environmental Management)

ISO27001 (Information Security)
